

UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI SUMMER PROGRAM SOCIAL SCIENCES

JULY 9 - 27, 2018

Join the University of Cincinnati for an experience you will never forget! In just three weeks, you and fellow students will take courses in environmental science, negotiation management, and entrepreneurship. You will also get to explore the city of Cincinnati during guided extracurricular activities.

We enrich your educational experience with guest speakers and field trips to local businesses, giving you a look at real-world approaches.

Extracurricular activities may include:

- Taking a Riverboat Cruise on the Ohio River
- Attending a Cincinnati Red's baseball game
- Viewing the animals at the Cincinnati Zoo
- A welcome dinner & farewell dinner

Cost: $2,000

Approximate Application Deadline: April 1

Applications available at www.uc.edu/international/services/summer-programs.html

WEEK 1: ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE

Professor Jodi Shann

This course will examine how humans have influenced the environment, considering the climate, water availability, biodiversity, as well as infrastructure, waste, and agriculture. The course will also examine global, national, and local politics and policies that affect environmental quality.

WEEK 2: NEGOTIATION MANAGEMENT

Professor Whitney Westrich

What makes an effective negotiator? We will focus on enabling you to become a more informed, effective and perceptive negotiator by practicing various approaches and concepts and gaining the strategies you need to negotiate in unfamiliar environments, cultures, and conflicts.

WEEK 3: ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Professor Chuck Matthews

This course provides students with a foundation for enterprise creation, exploring issues like crafting a business plan, creating organizations in pursuit of your entrepreneurial objectives, effectively leading as an entrepreneur or member of a team, and evaluating new venture concepts.